SOUTH ATLANTIC RANGE

The South Atlantic, which forms part of the five oceans of the world, brings with it fresh air that rolls into the South Western Coastline of Africa's Cape Winelands. Since 1659 our ancestors established vineyards along this extremely fertile coast. These vineyards can be found 33° South and it is still the same cold, nutrient – rich air that protects them with a fresh, cool climate. Like the Sea Dragon protecting the oceans, we protect the quality of our wines by only selecting a few vineyards to pick the best grapes for our wooded red and fresh white wines.
